Central California Business Review

MISSION
To report on the economic and financial health of Central California.

CONTACT
Donald N. Stengel, PhD, PMP
Interim Dean
Craig School of Business
California State University, Fresno
559.278.2482
dons@csufresno.edu
cencalbusinessreview.com

EDITOR
Barbara Morgan, M.Ed., MBA
Lecturer, Department of Marketing and Logistics
Craig School of Business

GRAPHIC DESIGN
Carrie Dennis Design

PROOFREADERS
Antonio Avalos, PhD
Cara Peracchi Douglas, MCJ, MPP
Don Stengel, PhD, PMP
Jeanne Marie Tokunaga

Central California Accredited

This information is for educational purposes only and should not be used or construed as financial advice, an offer to sell, a solicitation of an offer to buy, or a recommendation for any security or strategy mentioned. The views expressed are solely the personal opinions of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of California State University, Fresno. Wells Fargo; or other participating organizations. The authors do not guarantee that the information supplied is complete or timely, undertake to advise you of any change in its opinion, or make any guarantees of future results obtained from its use. The authors’ employers and affiliates may issue reports or have opinions that are inconsistent with, and reach different conclusions from, this report. Past performance does not indicate future results. Copyright 2019 Central California Business Review.

Messages from the Dean and Chief Economist

The Craig School of Business is pleased to share the second edition of the Central California Business Review. In 2018, we published our inaugural edition under the leadership of Robert M. Harper, now Interim Provost at Fresno State. Dr. Harper’s vision and efforts resulted in a successful launch and earned wide praise.

The second issue updates topics from the first edition in re-examining business sentiment, labor markets, consumer sentiment, banking and finance, and real estate market conditions in the Central San Joaquin Valley of California. The remaining three articles address different facets of our local economy: the manufacturing and processing of food and beverages, small business entrepreneurship, and the status and economic impact of dwindling water supplies. I know you will find all the articles interesting, informative, and useful.

I am thankful for the support that made this second issue possible. First, I am especially grateful for the services of Craig School Lecturer Barbara Morgan, who assumed the lead role in coordinating this issue from concept to printing. Craig School Associate Dean Antonio Avalos and Development Director Cara Peracchi Douglas were key members of the management team. The authors willingly contributed their time and expertise. Our participating partners provided much appreciated financial support. In particular, I would like to give special thanks to the continued generous support from Wells Fargo, our Founding Sponsor; to Educational Employees Credit Union for again supporting the cost of the Consumer Sentiment Survey; and to the San Joaquin Valley Manufacturing Alliance for sponsoring the breakfast and the manufacturing research.

Donald N. Stengel

Donald N. Stengel, Ph.D, PMP
Interim Dean, Professor of Information Systems and Decision Sciences, Craig School of Business, California State University, Fresno

Congratulations to Fresno State and its team led by Don Stengel and Barbara Morgan from the Craig School of Business on its second volume of the Central California Business Review. This is exemplary evidence of thought leadership resulting from Academia meeting Main Street that educates communities and promotes the economic vibrancy and success of Central California. Wells Fargo is proud to be the founding sponsor of this objective and comprehensive economic commentary and intellectual analysis that provides guidance on future business conditions. As former Dean of Sacramento State’s College of Business, I am pleased to be part of this tremendous public service to the region, and extremely proud of this effort.

Sanjay Varshney, PhD, CFA
Senior Vice President and Investment Strategy Specialist for California and Nevada – Wells Fargo Private Bank
Chief Economist, Sacramento Business Review